Detectives Travel With Patient Until
Special Train Passes Indiana State
Line—Learned For First Time Bullet Lies Outside Colonel's Rib—
Wound Has Bled Considerably

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The advisability of permitting Colonel Roosevelt to depart this morning for Oyster Bay was debated at length yesterday and not until after his physicians had held a consultation last night did they decide definitely that he might do so. He left for New York at 8:08 a. m.

Special precautions for the protection of Roosevelt when he left were taken by Assistant Chief of Police Schuetter, who took personal charge of the arrangements and led thirty-five uniformed patrolmen who guarded Roosevelt en route from the hospital to the railway station.

A force of detectives guarded the patient until the train had passed the Indiana state line.

Although Roosevelt's condition was described as normal throughout the day, it was learned that his wound had bled considerably and that he was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

The ex-president's physicians insisted that both of these developments were to be expected and that there was in them no cause for alarm. The bleeding, it was explained by Dr. Lambert, necessarily accompanied the discharge of serum, which is part of the healing process.

Dr. Lambert also said that any patient who had been in bed for a week would suffer from nervous exhaustion and that Roosevelt needed only to have absolute rest.

"There is no cause for serious misgivings," said Dr. Bevan, "if Colonel Roosevelt is kept quiet."

Dr. Murphy and Dr. Terrell gave the same opinion.

In spite of the assurances of the physicians, it was apparent that some concern was felt as to the effect upon Roosevelt of a day and night on the train. Mrs. Roosevelt accepted the judgment of Dr. Murphy and his associates, although for a time after her husband's setback Saturday night she was doubtful whether it would be safe to attempt the journey so soon.

The physicians' evening bulletin, while reporting Roosevelt's condition as good, emphasized the need of absolute quiet.

The position of the bullet which so nearly cost Roosevelt his life was fixed with precision for the first time yesterday. Another X-ray photograph, the third, was taken yesterday and from this it was learned that the bullet lay on the outside of the broken rib. Until this photograph was taken the physicians had been unable to state positively whether it was on the outside or the inside of the rib.

"We know definitely now that the bullet lies outside the rib, where it can do no harm," said Dr. Lambert. "It lies in such a position that I could reach the spot precisely through a small incision should Roosevelt desire to have it removed at any time. It is a matter of his own preference."

Colonel Roosevelt said he did not think he would ever have the bullet removed.

Mrs. Roosevelt supervised final arrangements for her husband's journey to Oyster Bay and gave orders to have his car stocked with his favorite things to eat. Dr. Lambert and Dr. Terrell, who have charge of the colonel during the trip, said that they would try to keep him in bed most of the time.

On arrival in New York, the two cars which will be occupied by Roosevelt and his party will be switched to the tracks of the Long Island railroad and sent direct to Oyster Bay, so that the colonel will not be obliged to leave his stateroom until he gets into the automobile which will take him to Sagamore Hill.

Once back at home, there will be little relaxation of the strict regimen of the physicians for a week or ten days. Roosevelt believes, however, that he will be able to speak in New York Oct. 30.

He hopes to make one speech to summarize all of his reasons for seeking support for the Progressive party, and has begun to plan an address which he can deliver in twenty minutes.

ALLIED ARMIES ARE ADVANCING

Face Decisive Battle at Adrianople, Gate to Turkey

CAPTURE OF MUSTAPHA PASHA

Victory of Bulgarian Troops, Headed by Ferdinand, Opens Road to Stronghold of Enemy—Montenegrins Reported In Danger, Being Checked on Way to Scutari

London, Oct. 21.—With the Bulgarian army occupying Mustapha Pasha, Tsar Ferdinand's army has opened the road to the great fortress of Adrianople. The Bulgarians will now move upon Adrianople along the Maritza river, and probably will attack the Turkish stronghold before the end of the week.

With the exception of the checking of the Montenegrin advance at Tarabosh, which blocks the way to Scutari, the armies of the allies appear to have been uniformly successful so far. The numerous preliminary engagements reported are but preliminary to four big battles expected to be waged this week.

The first, and perhaps the most important of these, will be the attack upon Adrianople. The other three expected battles will be near Uskub, in Macedonia; Scutari and Miluna, near the Greek frontier.

The Turkish army appears to be acting purely on the defensive for the present. The only naval activity reported Sunday is the bombardment of Varna, a Bulgarian port on the Black sea. Three Turkish warships opened fire at ten miles on the port and two Bulgarian torpedo boats lying in the harbor. The bombardment was ineffective and the Turkish vessels withdrew.

Turkey has given notice of the blockading of Varna and of Burghas to the south. The Greek fleet is reported to be blockading the coast of Turkey from Perviza to the northern end of Corfu.

Greek troops have taken Ellassona, in Thessaly, after four hours of fighting. Another Greek force has occupied the Heights of Grimbova, across the Arta river in Epirus. The Greeks in the Epirus repulsed an attack by Turks at Filates.

The Serbian army also has advanced well into Turkish territory. Several small towns have been taken by the Serbs. The crown prince is in command of the First Army corps. Cold and rain are hampering the movements of the troops.

The Bulgarians, led by Tsar Ferdinand and the princes, are making a general advance. Besides taking Mustapha Pasha, the Bulgars, crossing the frontier at other points, have taken the small towns of Tsarevostol, Gamia and Djuma. Other columns have penetrated Turkey through the passes of the Rhodope mountains.

By appearing on the field with his men, Ferdinand has won the hearts of all and aroused the troops to great enthusiasm. There was sharp fighting before the Turkish entrenchments were carried, and after the battle the war talked about the field comforting the wounded and bestowing decorations on some of them. The advance toward Adrianople will probably begin as soon as the railroad bridge is restored over the Maritza river. The Turks cut it in their retreat.

Adrianople is only seventeen miles to the south. It is defended with modern fortresses equipped with 300 modern guns. It is the main gateway to Turkey, and should be able to withstand a long and hard siege.

The Bulgarian and Serbian advance upon Uskub is more difficult. There are two roads which the armies may take in their advance on the stronghold. One is from Koestendil, in Bulgaria, though the other is along the main line of the railroad from Servia.

It is reported from Belgrade that the Old Servians and Macedonians have cut the Turkish line of communication between Uskub and Salonica, preventing the sending of reinforcements to the Turkish front. This report has not been confirmed.

The Montenegrin advance toward Scutari, which has been checked at Tarabosh, will be resumed when the Montenegrins are strengthened by the arrival of a Serbian column which has been directed across the Sandjak of Novibazar.

The Montenegrins are said to be in a critical position today, as 10,000 Albanian tribesmen are said to have joined the Turkish forces. Crown Prince Danilo has left Podgoritz for Lake Scutari to join the general staff. The Montenegrins have bombarded several small Turkish ports on Lake Scutari.

The Worrier.
"You must quit worry and take a vacation," said the practitioner.
"My dear doctor," replied the patient, "if I could get my affairs into shape that would permit me to take a vacation I'd be so relieved I wouldn't need one."—Washington Star.

NURSE'S FATAL ERROR

Gives Patient Acid by Mistake and Becomes Seriously Affected

Yonkers, N. Y., Oct. 21.—As the result of administering a dose of acid in mistake for salts to Mrs. Alice Haight in the Yonkers Homeopathic hospital early Sunday, causing the patient's death, Florence Harris, a nurse at the institution, became so unnerved that she was unconscious all day. Physicians have been unable to arouse her and they are greatly puzzled over her case.

The husband of the dead woman has asked the police not to make any charge against the nurse, as he is satisfied it was through no fault of hers that the poison was administered.
